OUR STORY

Let me give you a few details into why and how Pinnacle CBD came into existence. My name is Kevin Lacey and my wife is Jessica Lacey. Our daughter has Epilepsy and the full story of it is below. I wanted to find a way to help her and her away from the Big Pharma meds. I knew marijuana had a lot of potential in helping, however we live in Missouri (not legal in anyway) and I really didn't want to send my (at the time) 13-year-old daughter to school high every day.

That's when I discovered hemp and the benefits CBD has. At first, I bought some other brands, tried them at our retail store, and tried them on my daughter. The results weren't great. Listening to people's feedback was really discouraging and I had almost given up. I started to wonder if maybe CBD is just some snake oil. Maybe this isn't going to hemp my daughter at all. That's when I met a guy who taught me a lot and I learned why so many brands don't work (huge thank you to that guy). I spent the next several months learning as much about hemp and CBD as I could (and still researching to this day).

After getting the right farmer, with the right genetics, and the right extraction method - we had an amazing product that could do so much more. Everyday we hear stories of what Pinnacle Hemp has done for so many people and families. I can not describe to you what these stories have done for me. They are what run this company. We will continue to educate and grow our products to create the most effective products we can.

No minimum order quantity, order as little or as much as you like. We pride ourselves on letting stores big and small carry our products.

We offer a 60 day swap out program. If you can't sell a certain product within 60 days we will swap it out with something that works better for you.

Education Support. Education is key. We will help educate you on everything you need to know about hemp and our products so you can educate your employees, customers, and increase ROI.

You will be assigned your own personal sales rep. Unlike some sales reps, they will build a personal relationship with you to make you feel apart of the Pinnacle family. Your rep will be able to help you with all of your needs.

All first orders with Pinnacle will get a one time 20% off. This is a great opportunity to try a variety of products or stock up on inventory at a discounted rate.

FULL SPECTRUM

A full spectrum oil is a whole plant extract. This means the oil contains multiple cannabinoids, vitamins, minerals, fatty acids, proteins, terpenes, and flavonoids. Having all of these components allows you to get the most out of the entourage effect. Meaning this is the most effective option. Full spectrum oils also have trace amounts of THC, 0.3% or less.

BROAD SPECTRUM

Broad spectrum oils typically have no or non-detectable THC. Hence the name "broad" instead of "full". A broad spectrum oil can be 2 or more isolates blended together or a blend of whole plant extracts. These whole plant extracts are mixed together until THC is not present or non-detectable like our Kokoro line. Broad spectrum is the way to go if one is worried about THC content.

ISOLATE

A CBD isolate is exactly what it sounds like. CBD is isolated from a whole plant extract and have no other active ingredient. Isolate often comes as a white powder or a mix with a carrier oil. These products do not contain the compounds needed to complete the entourage effect, so they are not very effective. However they are still a popular product considering the price point is normally much cheaper.

Our hemp is farmed and extracted in the Rocky Mountains of Colorado. We pride ourselves on using a Cryogenic Ethanol Extraction method. Using a cold extraction method preserves levels of cannabinoids in whole plant extracts where the extraction of secondary cannabinoids are desired. Such as CBN, CBG, CBDA, and THCA. This process yields a potent whole plant extract. Allowing the entourage effect to easily take place in the body.

When looking at labs, remember to look at all cannabinoids present and not just CBD. Higher numbers of secondary cannabinoids is crucial to how well the entourage effect will take place. This is why thousands of people have chosen Pinnacle and have never looked back.
